County Schools to Open August 31

by Barbara Likowski

Schools will open Monday, August 31 for students in the Prince Georges County public school system. This year 102,500 students are expected to enroll, down about 400 from last year but much less of a decrease than in recent years. The county will operate 171 schools—22 high schools (including two vocational education high schools), 28 middle schools, 10 special education schools and 111 elementary schools.

There will be approximately 5,871 teachers, a slight increase over last year. According to Brian Porter, information officer for the county school system, it is hoped that this year class size can be kept to a county-wide average in the mid-twenties.

Porter maintained that there has been continuous improvement in student scores on the California Achievement Tests. Ongoing efforts will be made to improve student achievement in science, mathematics, social studies and English, he said.

To transport the children, Prince Georges County system maintains one of the largest bus fleets in the country, 949 buses travel 17.2 million miles per year. For Greenbelt bus schedules see the box elsewhere in this paper.

Magnet Schools

Four new magnet schools will open this year. Close to Greenbelt are Beltsville elementary school and Martin Luther King middle school which will be academic centers. Suitland High school which already has a university high school program, will also become a high school for the visual and performing arts. Thomas Pullen middle school in Landover will be a creative and performing arts elementary/middle school. New to the county last year, the magnet school program was inaugurated to help maintain the Court's mandatory desegregation of the county schools. Students are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis (registration was in March) within desegregation guidelines. Programs include: traditional academy; French Immersion; Montessori pre-school and kindergarten; humanities for 9th and 10th grades; science and mathematics, elementary, middle school and high school; Talented and Gifted (TAG), elementary and middle school; and Extended Day, an added early and after school program for children of working mothers. Although most of these schools have been filled for this school year, there are limited openings for 9th and 10th graders at the high school for the humanities and social sciences, at Central High School and at the extended day program schools.

Lunch Costs

Lunch for elementary school children will cost $1.00 this year; reduced price lunches will be 20c.

See SCHOOLS, p. 13, col. 1

St. Hugh's School Begins on Sept. 8

St. Hugh's elementary school will open on Tuesday, September 8 for grades two through eight. School will run from 8:15 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Uniforms need to be worn on the first day.

First graders will be contacted by their teacher who will arrange a testing date for them during the first week.

Newcomers can register at the school any week day before school starts.

Critical City Issues Are Discussed At Candidate's Night in Greenbriar

by Sid Kastner

Seven candidates, running for seats on the Greenbelt City Council in the coming city election on September 15, were given the opportunity to make statements and answer questions at a Candidates' Night held at the Greenbriar Community Center on Tuesday evening, August 18. The meeting was sponsored by the Greenbelt East Advisory Committee which consists presently of the four communities of Greenbriar, Hunting Ridge, Windsor Green/Glen Ora and Greenwood Village.

Chairman Bob Zugby of the host group noted that this particular city election is "fraught with significance," coming as it does on Greenbelt's 50th Anniversary. He voiced Greenbelt East's commitment "to the task of bridge-building with the rest of the city."

The seven candidates are incumbents Gil Weidenfeld, presently mayor, mayor pro tem Thomas X. White, Antoinette M. Bram, Joseph Isaacs, Edward V.J. Putens, and challengers Keith Chernikoff and Irene Hensel. In five-minute opening statements each gave his or her views on the issues confronting Greenbelt.

Chernikoff expressed concern about the "decay of Roosevelt Center," traffic congestion in Greenbelt East and the problems of keeping density down in future development. He said that his background in problem-solving as a systems analyst was relevant.

White stressed parkland acquisition and also the improvement of Roosevelt Center, suggesting that special assessment taxes on neighboring property owners might be necessary. He also spoke against encroachment on parkland by additional parking lots near Roosevelt Center, and urged that the "unique Greenbelt feature" of inner walkways be expanded to connect all sections of the growing city.

Isaacs also stressed the revitalization of Roosevelt Center, noted his participation in pushing a county bill to try to slow down development, and cited "the mess" at Kenilworth Avenue and Greenbelt Road. He also mentioned several other current issues, such as conversion of the North End School to a useful facility for citizens, the need for adequate park facilities and control of drug traffic.

Irene Hensel described her participation in Greenbelt citizens' groups, starting in the sixties with the Vietnam War and with Fair Housing advocates. She also fought the proposed location of the present Eleanor Roosevelt High School within a "landlocked" area of Greenbelt, which would have made access difficult, and opposed the coming high-density development; in the process she helped found the present Citizens for Greenbelt Association.

Antoinette Bram told the audience that "I understand your concern about crime in Greenbelt" and added that "the drug problem is insidious." She said the area needs more single-family homes and noted further that "over 65 is the fastest-growing population group," which therefore needs attention. All these issues will require "experience and expertise," she said.

Putens noted the "abundance of issues and concerns that face our city," such as development and redevelopment. He used the latter term to refer to renovation of the Roosevelt Center and similar older city landmarks. He put crime and drugs near the top of his list as most serious, citing the fact that 80% of police arrests are drug-related and describing his own experience of accompanying a police car in a drug search. The problems of developments are also urgent, Putens said, calling the present year a "decisive year" for this issue.

Weidenfeld noted that he was completing his eighth term on council and fifth as mayor, and said he would "fight hard to prevent undesirable development in Greenbelt." He described his work as chairman of a strategic planning committee in the areawide Council of Governments (COG), and as participant in a five-year budget which would "peek into the financial future." He indicated that this experience was being brought to bear in Greenbelt affairs.

Questions Raised

The main part of the event was given over to questions prepared by representatives of the See GREENBRIAR, p. 5, col. 1

Politicians Knock on Doors Address Issues at Forums

by Elaine Skolnik

All five members of the current city council — Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, Mayor Pro-Tem Thomas X. White and Councilmembers Edward V. J. Putens, Antoinette M. "Toni" Bram and Joseph C. Isaacs — are out on the hustings along with challengers Keith Chernikoff and Irene Hensel. These seven candidates are vying for five council seats in a campaign that will end on election day — Tuesday, September 15.

With political literature in hand, candidates are already doorknocking and planting their signs throughout the city. In an effort to heighten voter interest and to bring out the candidates' positions on the issues, several candidates' forums have already been held. The first face-off, sponsored by the Greenbelt East Advisory Committee, took place at the Greenbriar Community Center on August 18. (See article elsewhere in this issue.) The Citizens for Greenbelt held their forum last Thursday night, August 27 in the Municipal Building. Candidates will also appear at Green Ridge House on Tuesday, September 1 and will be seen working the crowds during the Labor Day Festival weekend.

Greenbelt's eligible voters can also expect to be bombarded with telephone calls from supporters of a particular candidate or candidates. Some 3,106 Greenbelters are currently on the voter registration rolls, a 3.6% decrease from the 1985 total of 3,222. (See chart on page 4.)

Although Greenbelt's population increased from an estimated 18,390 in 1985 to an estimated 18,943 in 1987, Greenbelt's four precincts showed a decline in voter registration from 1985. The number of eligible voters in precinct 3 (Center) dropped by 2.7%; in precinct 6 (North End) by 3.1%. In precinct 8 (Springhill Lake) registration was down by 8.6% and in precinct 13 (Greenbelt East) there was a 3.9% drop.

Between June 22 and August 17, when the registration books closed, some 300 Greenbelters registered—62 in precinct 3, 81 in precinct 6, 23 in precinct 8 and 134 in precinct 13, where the new townhouse development of Greenwood Village opened and where additional townhouses constructed in the Windsor Green/Glen Ora townhouse development.

In 1985 there were about 8,555 dwelling units in the city. Today the city-wide estimate is about 8,940 units—2,899 in Springhill Lake (precinct 8), 3,860 in Old Greenbelt (precincts 3 and 6) and 2,181 in Greenbelt East (precinct 13).

Polling places are: precinct 3—Greenbelt Municipal Building; precinct 6—North End School; precinct 8—Fountain Lodge, and precinct 13—Greenbriar Community Center.

Questionnaire

There will be no referendum questions on the ballot this year. However, voters will again be asked to complete a questionnaire dealing with city programs and services. A complete copy of the questionnaire will be published in a future issue of the News Review and will be available at the polls.

Any qualified voter who is unable to vote in the election because of religious beliefs, physical condition or absence from the city on election day may vote by absentee ballot.

Applications for absentee ballots are now being accepted in City Clerk Gudrun Mills' office in the Municipal Building. Signed applications must be made in writing and must reach the office of the city clerk no later than noon, Monday, September 14. The absentee ballots must be returned to the city clerk no later than 6 p.m. on election day, September 15. Applications are available in the city offices. Persons who are leaving town may complete their absentee ballots at the same time.

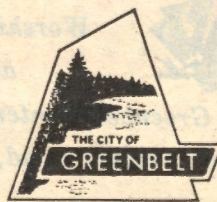

The Greenbelt Connection will be running on election day between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Outstanding Citizens To Be on Television

The Oral History Interview series will continue next week with the "Outstanding Citizens". This one hour and thirty-five minute program features all of the past Outstanding Citizens in Greenbelt. The program will air on Channel B-10 Wednesday and Thursday, September 2 and 3 at 2 and 7 p.m.

Miss Greenbelt Pageant Fetes Former Queens

To commemorate Greenbelt's 50th Anniversary, the Miss Greenbelt Pageant of the Labor Day Festival has planned a reunion of all former Miss Greenbelts. After one year of planning, the committee has located 29 out of the 33 former queens in places as far away as Alaska and as nearby as Greenbelt.

The former queens will be presented at the Sunday evening pageant events. The first Miss Greenbelt, Mary Emmert Ruleman, queen in 1955, will assist in the crowning of Miss Greenbelt 1987. In honor of the former queens, there will be a luncheon jointly sponsored by Greenbriar, Greenway Safeway and the Greenbelt Hilton. At the conclusion of the festivities, the former queens will be participating in the Greenbelt Labor Day Parade.

The 1987 pageant will begin with a special introduction number by the contestants on Friday evening to the song, "America", by Neil Diamond. The participants will wear costumes from different countries. Saturday evening will feature a slide show of events leading up to the Labor Day weekend and the talent presentation. On Sunday evening, the girls will participate in the evening gown and public speaking competition. The queen will be crowned Sunday evening and a special Queens float will be in Monday's parade.

Letters to the Editor

Fred, Where Are You?

The announcement by Mrs. Hensel that she would help organize to fix the Greenbelt Road-Kenilworth Avenue interchange was just part of the organizing efforts underway in opposition to the $13 million boondoggle. There is so much opposition to this terrible intersection that the opposition committees are expected to be small, single-purpose organizations which will more or less cooperate under a few broad umbrella organizations.

The largest organization is the Committee of Concern over the Greenbelt Road-Kenilworth Intersection, known as The Concerned. This group, and the Committee to Avoid Kenilworth Avenue, or Avoiders, will be the largest members of the umbrella group known as Those Unhappy With the Interchange.

The next level of involvement will be a large group of small committees under the umbrella group. Those Doing Something About the Interchange. The individual committees are still in a state of foment, and it is not certain how many there will be. Currently we know of the following: The Legal Committee Against the Highway Department, or Legalists, which will seek to remove everyone from the state payroll that has had a hand in approving this monstrosity; The Committee to Finance Changes Out of Highway Department Salaries, or Financiers; The Committee to Move the Highway Department to Greenbelt Road, or Movers, has already started passing a petition (elsewhere in this paper); The Committee to Charge the Highway Department for Costs of Having to Avoid Kenilworth Avenue, or The Chargers, will have the longest name, and will work closely with the Avoiders and the Legalists.

I have not heard of a committee whose expressed goal is to redesign or fix the interchange. But if that happens, we will see some real action, positive or negative.

There is an organization for every approach to "Son of the Eternity Light". And if someone will start a Committee to Rename All the Other Committees, which we will for now call Fred, we will all appreciate their work.

Swimming is Losing

Catching up after summer travel and summer heat, I read with interest Elizabeth Pels' month-old article on the missing Water Show and the front runner's role of the swim team. However, not only the Water Show is losing out. After the renovation of the outdoor pool, the swimming area will be reduced by the area taken up by the swim team's turning wall; the diving pool will be no more; the kiddie pool will be reduced in size and the enclosed, safe, social meeting area surrounding the kiddie pool will also have disappeared.

Maybe this letter can be of some help to draw the attention to the needs of non-organized swimmers, such as divers, lap swimmers, kiddies with their chaperones, just plain water cavers and, of course, participants in future water shows.

Not the First

A recent article in the News Review stated that GHI was asking for 33 Ridge Road to be held as the first occupied residence in Greenbelt. I believe if GHI talked to some of the pioneer families they would find that the first homes were occupied in 3 Gardenway.

The first family was a Marine Corp. Sgt. Ashley (I believe) who moved into 3 Gardenway. Afterwards Mr. Roy Braden also moved into 3 Gardenway. Some of the following early families would also remember—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haley, Mr. and Mrs. George Eshbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh Barcas, Mrs. Mary Schubert, Mrs. Gladys At-tick, (Buddy's wife) on Woodland Way.

It could be that houses at 33 Ridge Road were the model homes which were shown to prospective tenants. Another person who would know is George Panagoulis, former Chief of Police, who used to act as a guide before he became Chief of Police.

THANKS

Dear Friends,

We recently enjoyed the article written about our mother "Teddy" Murray and wanted to take this opportunity to thank the News Review and all the Murray's Greenbelt friends for all the kind messages and wishes of the past few months.

Greenbelt was very special to both our parents. They contributed often to the community. As the oldest child I recall so many happy times. My dad "John" out in the pouring rain whitewashing the name Braden Field on the banks of the field when it was first named. The many hours my mother spent helping to create the "Drop Inn" later to become the Youth Center. Their hours of devotion to the creation of St. Hugh's Church and dad's devotion to the creating of the Cooperator and the Greenbelt Players where numerous plays were given on the stage of the Greenbelt theater. The happy hours spent at the "new" tennis courts watching dad play and then off to the "Club House" for a Coke. How lucky I was to be in on all that and have such wonderful memories of our family and community growing at the same time.

Our parents were so excited about the coming 50th Anniversary celebration and though they were with us in Arizona these past four years, their hearts never left their beloved Greenbelt.

Of course our sadness is great at losing them both almost at the same time, but how comforting it is to know that any visit to Greenbelt can find a memory of them tucked away in some corner. Thank you.

Tree Cutting Queried

What are they doing out there on Northway? Why are they tearing into the last untouched woods we have left?

I have contacted the Nature Conservancy but they are startlingly uninterested. Does anyone else know anything we can do to save this last bit of woodland?

It's being said that there are too many deer around now. That's a rather twisted way of saying there are too many people.

Bill Rich

(Editor's Note: The woods, on property owned by Greenbelt Homes, Inc., are being selectively cut to remove diseased trees. The State Department of Natural Resources has marked which trees should be removed.)

Can the need for braces be prevented?

Except for inherited structural defects or developmental abnormalities, which usually require a precise course of treatment, many other factors determine the need for braces, as well as length of time for treatment.

Preventive measures which can be taken are: (1) prevention of cavities which may lead to early loss of baby teeth; (2) elimination of bad habits such as thumb sucking or lip biting; and (3) placement of space maintainers in cases where teeth have been lost prematurely.

In addition, the use of simple appliances at an early age may reduce or eliminate the need for braces. Examples of this are treatment for one tooth erupting out of place or correction of a tongue thrust pattern of swallowing.

four Greenbelt East communities. Wayne Gordon of Windsor Green/Glen Ora asked for candidates' views on how Schrom Hills Park should be developed, and about the possibility of acquiring more parkland east of the Baltimore-Washington (B-W) Parkway. James Foy of Hunting Ridge wanted to know how they felt about further development along Hanover Parkway, with its effect on density, traffic flow and green space. Arlene Peterson of the Greenwood Association asked about a past council decision "not to hire more police officers," and how candidates would keep officers on the force. Dorothy Pyles of Greenbriar brought up the recent discussions of bond issue priorities, asking if the commitments of June 29 will be honored, and "if there's a lack of funds (for other projects), will you entertain a supplemental bond referendum?"

On three of these questions the candidates were in general agreement. They supported passive recreational use for Schrom Hills Park—green space with hiking and jogging trails—in preference to active uses such as a ballfield and/or soccer field, with White and Weidenfeld being most emphatic on this preference. Weidenfeld cautioned that "We don't want an over-used 'magnet park' like Greenbelt's (present) Lake Park." Hensel and Bram both acknowledged that "You do have to get feedback from the community," and, "We want to hear what you have to say in the East."

With respect to acquisition of more parkland, Chernikoff argued that the developers should provide (more) recreational facilities" and Putens felt, "We should get our hands on whatever land is available."

On the question of the council's not hiring more police officers, several candidates pointed out that this step had actually not been recommended by the city manager or police chief, who instead needed more non-enforcement personnel (Putens noted that "The police chief himself was wavering between all his different needs"). Weidenfeld stated that the whole of Prince Georges County, with almost a million population, has about 900 officers, while Greenbelt with a much smaller area and population has 42, so that "no land is patrolled as heavily as Greenbelt."

Isaacs and Chernikoff emphasized proper allocation of (tax) resources, with the latter suggesting employment incentives for officers, such as "graveyard shift" pay and early retirement possibilities. This last type of incentive was also mentioned by Bram because of "burnout" due to the stress of law enforcement. Hensel separately emphasized the role of citizens in the "Crime-watch" programs as a useful alternative to increased patrolling.

On the matter of Hanover Parkway development, there was even more unanimous agreement among the candidates that this has become a "critical issue" (Weidenfeld's term). Two points were repeated by several speakers; number one, that, "We don't have a great deal of control" (Bram) or "There's not a great deal we can do because it's . . . controlled by higher levels of government" (Isaacs), and number two, "You have to be strong and tough with these (developers) because that's the only language they understand" (White). Weidenfeld noted that "Greenbelt land has become the most prized land in the county," and White pointed out that "The closer you get to the Beltway, the lower the 'marketability' of single-family homes."

With respect to concrete measures which might be taken to slow the pace of development along Hanover Parkway, White and Isaacs suggested that the number of "cuts" or commercial entrances along that road should be kept down. Another aspect which is coming up now is the extension of Hanover Parkway to Good Luck Road, which will become "the southern entrance to Greenbelt" (White). Putens noted that a developer has already applied for commercial rezoning at that location, and emphasized that the council's position, and his own, was "no more commercial" along Hanover Parkway; "I'm reminding council now that we took that position."

Hensel advocated a county "moratorium on all development, period (because) the development goes on and on but the roads stay the same." Chernikoff concluded discussion of this issue by urging that the city "fight smarter"—develop facts and figures on the commercial development "so that we can go eye-to-eye with the developers . . . and continue to preserve the green town beauty of this community."

Bond Issues

Thus, with regard to development, crime control and parkland acquisition and use, no essential disagreements were expressed by the seven candidates. The only dissension came in replies to the twin questions on bond money allocation and possible supplemental bond issue. All candidates agreed they would "honor the commitment" of June 29 to allocate a third of the bond funds to each major set of capital projects, but some were reminded of the disputes which preceded that date. In White's view "the commitment waffled . . . leading to the agonizing evening" of June 29, and Chernikoff said "I pushed the council to make a decision . . . there were calls for public meetings that weren't listened to."

On the further question of a possible supplemental bond issue, an apparent split emerged among the candidates in the course of the discussion. Weidenfeld, who happened to be first to respond to this particular question, replied, "I would certainly be supportive of (raising) additional funds . . . if necessary," but Chernikoff, Hensel, Putens, White and Isaacs expressed various degrees of opposition to such a step. Chernikoff said he would "ask for definite priorities (to be set) for the money," and White stated, "I would not support a supplemental bond issue unless I was convinced that the council would keep faith with the people."

Finally, another pressing issue for the area was raised by Eunice Coxon in the matter of the Kenilworth-Greenbelt Road intersection. Weidenfeld gave a brief history of the intersection; "Two (alternative) plans were prepared . . . the city wanted Greenbelt Road to go through (without traffic lights) . . . however we were told by the State Highway Administration (SHA) that this would cost too much, so the other plan prevailed . . . so the local traffic (along Greenbelt Road) is suffering more than the transient traffic (along Kenilworth)."

White agreed with this chronology, adding, "We asked for it, and we've got it, and we've got to live with it," and suggested that a coming meeting of the city and state officials on September 28 "hopefully will shed more light on the situation."

Bram expressed concern about the exit from Springhill Lake and also queried why the bridge over the Baltimore-Washington Parkway had not been widened in advance of other construction. Hensel proposed that citizens form an organization specifically to deal with the traffic problem, as she has done for other causes. Putens, Chernikoff and Isaacs strongly criticized the state's handling of the road situation, with the last candidate telling audience member Senator Leo Green, "This is one of many situations which the state has dumped on us . . . We're tired of (the state) not listening." This comment was followed by a burst of applause.

INDEPENDENT, EXPERIENCED LEADERSHIP

It is time to stop talking about Roosevelt Center problems — and to work to improve its appearance.

Years of neglect and indecision have resulted in a city center with both physical and social decay. After establishing a high priority for improving the appearance of the Roosevelt Center in the next Council term, I would support immediate action to rehabilitate public areas of the Center, including the parking compounds and sidewalks. The following funding sources should be investigated:

- Special assessment taxes on adjacent commercial property owners
- Community development block grant funds
- Other County, State or Federal grant programs

With regard to the privately-owned structures in the Roosevelt Center, the City's role is limited. However, the City can encourage, support and persuade the property owners to improve the commercial structures. I would support any reasonable means to preserve the buildings while renovating the commercial center:

- State/Federal loan programs for rehabilitation
- Facade easements to preserve the original art deco design
- Use of City revenue bonds (at no cost to city taxpayers) for commercial center rehabilitation

The overall success of such a program would depend on the attentiveness of the City Council and the good faith commitment of the commercial center property owners.

Your support and vote will enable me to continue efforts to improve the Roosevelt Center. I welcome your suggestions and comments and can be reached at 474-6440.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

A condominium in the 7700 block of Hanover Parkway was entered through an unlocked door about 10:30 a.m., August 15 while the resident was out walking her dog. Cash and a watch were stolen. A short time later Sgt. John Lann arrested a 32-year-old man of no fixed address at the Greenway Shopping Center. The stolen items were found in the man's possession. He was also found to be wanted in Montgomery County on an outstanding arrest warrant. He was held on $1000 bond.

A man who created a disturbance during a domestic argument about 4:45 p.m., August 14 at an apartment at 11 Parkway was arrested by Officer Michael Jeffreys and charged with disorderly conduct. He was also wanted on an outstanding arrest warrant for assault. A nonresident, he was held on $2500 bond.

Officer Tom Keifline arrested an 18-year-old male Greenbelt resident about 11:30 p.m., August 16 at a Metro bus stop in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane when the officer found a .32 caliber revolver in the man's possession. The suspect, charged with possession of a deadly weapon, was released on personal recognizance before a District Court Commissioner, pending trial.

Officers responding about 5:15 p.m., August 14 to a report from a citizen that there were two men acting in a suspicious manner near unoccupied homes in the 7600 block of Mandan Road found evidence of an attempted break-in at a townhouse. The men were in a gray 1987 Ford Tempo 4-door sedan with D.C. tags R8589. The first man was black, 6'1", 160-165 lbs., short-cropped hair, goatee beard, wearing a red windbreaker with a white and gold patch, gold chains around neck. The other man was black, wearing a white jacket.

A condominium in the 8000 block of Mandan Road was entered August 14 through an unlocked door. Money and Jewelry were stolen.

A shopper at the Safeway in Greenway Center reported her wallet stolen from her purse about 2 p.m., August 16. She had left the purse in the shopping cart and did not see the person who stole her wallet.

A 1987 Volkswagen Jetta and a 1987 Hyundai Excel, both stolen August 15 from the parking lot at Beltway Plaza were recovered the next day by Prince Georges County police. They found the Volkswagen in the 900 block of Able Avenue, Capitol Heights and the Hyundai, less its tires, in the 3200 block of 75th Avenue, Landover.

Thefts from and vandalism to autos were reported in the 6000 block of Springhill Drive (3 reports), the Beltway Plaza parking lots (2 reports), the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terrace (2 reports), the 9100 and 9300 blocks of Edmonston Road, the 6200 block of Breezewood Drive and the 7500 block of Greenbelt Road.

Festival Notes

It takes considerable time and money to put on the four-day Labor Day Festival — the largest of its kind (all volunteer run) in the State of Maryland. Linda Parker is the Festival Committee Donations Chair. She is soliciting cash donations for the festival. Any organizations or individuals interested in making a donation are urged to call her (345-9573). All donations are sincerely appreciated and help put on terrific weekend for Greenbelt.

Special Contests

For those people who like to get in a little extra practicing, advance notice of the games for the Special Contests is a big help. Along with the traditional diaper derby, contests this year include toddler bean bag toss, break the balloon for 5-7 year olds, limbo walk for 8-10 year olds, happy birthday Greenbelt cake decorating for 9-12 year olds, stilts race for 13-15 year olds, 3-legged race for 16-adult and egg toss for senior citizens.

Carnival

An exciting array of activities by community groups is lined up for the Labor Day Festival Carnival. Food to be served at the carnival ranges from hot dogs, hamburgers, pizza and soft drinks to be joined by new acts—tight-rope walkers Linda and Robert Peck of the "Fools' Proof Follies" and Mike Kushla's "Juggling Insanity". After his Saturday stage performance Kushla will be roving the festival grounds, spreading his brand of insanity.

There will be two demonstrations: on Saturday the Studio of Korean Karate returns, while on Monday following their performance in the parade, the Diamond Wheels will give a short square dancing demonstration on the stage.

In honor of Greenbelt's 50th Anniversary Friday night's Lazy River Dixieland Jazz Band will present some of the songs of the big band era as well as more recent popular music. The rock and roll-rhythm and blues music of the Capitol Offense returns to the stage Saturday night, and Leon Morris' bluegrass band returns Sunday afternoon.

Three musical groups new to the stage are the country rock band Cactus, solo performer Ray Owen, and bluegrass band The Dixie Grass. Folksingers Iris and Diane, The Partners in Song, will to funnel cake and other exotic dishes. Activities will include bingo, tic-tac-toe, zoo dip, big six wheel and painting, T-shirts, bumper stickers, caps, mugs, flags, calendars, postcards, tote-bags and books will be sold at the carnival. There should be something for everyone.

Parade

One of the most entertaining events over Labor Day weekend is the annual Labor Day Parade. Any group interested in marching in the parade should call the Parade Chair Richard Semler (474-0885).

Stage Events

There will be a mix of old and new on stage this year. Christian the Magician and Bob Brown's puppet show will be returning, entertain once again, as will the lovely Sahara Dancers.

Volksmarch

In conjunction with the Labor Day Festival and Greenbelt's 50th Anniversary, the Freestate Happy Wanderers Volksmarch Club will sponsor a 10 kilometer walk through Greenbelt on Saturday and Sunday, September 5 and 6. Participants should receive a start card at the Greenbriar Park in Greenbelt East. Those who pay a registration fee and complete the course will receive a medal commemorating the occasion.

Deadlines

P.G. Philharmonic to Hold Auditions to Fill Vacancies

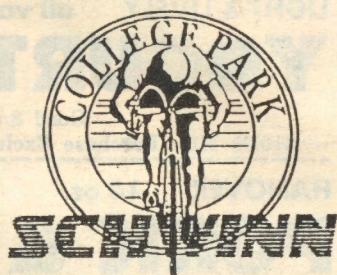

The Prince Georges Philharmonic Orchestra will be holding auditions in early September to fill vacancies in all string and percussion sections. Auditions will also be held for principal trumpet.

The Philharmonic is a full symphony orchestra and will play a six-concert season in 1987-88.

Auditions are by appointment. For information and appointments please call Personnel Manager Becky Odum at 864-2852 or the Philharmonic office at 699-2540.

Pet Show

Don't forget that dogs and cats entered in the pet show must have their rabies shots. The show will be Saturday, September 5. Registration will be at 10 a.m. and the show will start promptly thereafter. All pets must be on leashes or in containers.

Cars Must Stop 20 Feet From Stopped School Bus

Prince Georges County motorists are reminded that a new state law now requires all vehicles to stop not less than 20 feet away from a school bus that is flashing its stop signal. The law increases the distance from the previous 10 feet clearance.

To help motorists observe the new law, 84 buses of the public schools are equipped with a new stop signal arm. The "arm" is an octagonal shaped sign with white letters and border, a red background and two flashing red lights. The device swings out from the left side of the bus each time the driver activates the regular stop signal red lights on the front and rear of the bus.

In addition, 197 of the school system's buses are now equipped with an improved eight-light system. This system provides the flashing of amber warning lights prior to the actual stopping of a school bus and activation of red flashing lights.

Free/Reduced-Price Meals Available at Co. Schools

Prince Georges County Public Schools has announced its policy for free and reduced-price meals under the National School Lunch and/or School Breakfast Programs.

For school officials to determine a child's eligibility under the program, interested households must submit an application with the following information: (1) the names of all household members, (2) the social security numbers of all household members 21 and over or a statement that a household member does not have one, and (3) total household income. In addition, the application must be signed by an adult household member certifying that the information is correct.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. If there is a decrease in household income due to unemployment or other reasons, or any increase in family size, the household should reapply at that time. The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying income. In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits.

The school principal will review applications and determine eligibility; however, an informal or formal appeal can be made on this decision.

WEIDENFELD

Mayor Weidenfeld's response to the question of further development in Greenbelt East, particularly along Hanover Parkway — asked at Candidates Night, August 11, 1987.

"AT THE PRESENT TIME GREENBELT EAST IS THE MOST CRITICAL AREA IN GREENBELT FACING DEVELOPMENT. THE MICHAEL ROSE AND THE MARK VOGEL PROPERTY OWNERS HAVE FILED ZONING PETITIONS TO GAIN GREATER DENSITY THAN THE PRESENT SINGLE-FAMILY ZONING WILL ALLOW. THE SUNRISE APARTMENTS PROPERTY OWNER IS ALSO SEEKING HIGHER DENSITY.

"WE ARE GOING TO HAVE TO BE VERY TOUGH, BE VIGILANT AND FIGHT HARD TO KEEP THE DENSITIES OF THESE PROPERTIES AS LOW AS POSSIBLE.

"THIS AREA WILL BE A BATTLEGROUND FOR REZONING DURING THE NEXT TWO YEARS."

STANDS FOR CITY GOVERNMENT THAT RESPONDS TO THE NEEDS OF THE COMMUNITY

City government must work aggressively to protect its 'Greentown' heritage by preserving and expanding its parkland. The City should vigorously pursue greater influence over such matters as reducing traffic congestion, reducing the proliferation of signs, and limiting future development.

"As a council member, I will work to ensure that elected leaders don't just fight for our interest on toward limiting future development but that they fight SMARTER on these issues. I have watched too many land use decisions be made in our community when the developer possessed more on the facts than our own council. I will work to ensure this trend is reversed."

City government must act forcefully to resolve the lingering problem of revitalizing the Roosevelt Center. As a council member, I will work to restore the center to its historic character.

City government must address the needs of its ever growing senior population by developing programs addressing transportation, health, housing and recreation area. This cannot be done without staff and volunteers assigned to this effort. As a council member, I will work to establish necessary programs to ensure that Greenbelt seniors will continue to thrive in our community.

For too long, solutions to major problems in our City have lingered and stalled for lack of attention. I seek to serve you with a willingness to analyze the issues and make the hard decisions that will benefit the community in a fiscally efficient manner.

Milk will be 25c. Lunch for middle and high schoolers will be $1.05. Breakfast in elementary schools will be 65c; reduced breakfasts, 10c.

Registration

State law requires school attendance by every child between the ages of six and 16. Those who will be five before January 1, 1988 may attend kindergarten. Parents of students new to the school system who have not pre-registered should bring their child's birth certificate, proof of residence in Prince Georges County (deed, rental contract), record of immunization and the child's last report card if entering first grade or above.

Extra-Curricular Activities

Students will still need to have a 2.0 or better grade average in order to participate in sports or activities, but averages will be computed each quarter instead of each semester as was done in the past.

Expulsion Policy

Strict standards will continue to be upheld for drug, alcohol and weapons (including knives) abuse. Students need to be aware that none of these may be brought to school at any time, and that expulsion will result should this rule be broken. According to the Code of Student Conduct, students will be expelled for the first offense involving the use of or possession of weapons. For incidents involving drugs or alcohol the students will be expelled for the first offense involving distribution and the second offense involving possession. Most of these students are not eligible for readmission to the Prince Georges County school system. Students who are readmitted must remain expelled for at least the remainder of the semester in which the incident occurred and the following full semester. They must also present documentation of satisfactory participation in the alcohol/drug treatment program.

Newcomers to the school system should call the School Boundaries office, 952-6300 to ascertain which school their children should attend.

Did You Know?

That by early 1944 the defense housing sections of the town had been nicknamed Mudbelt? This happened after the original storm drainage system failed completely. It had been put in hurriedly as the war began—at a minimal cost of $40,000, and without due attention to the terrain's natural drainage. The federal government had to install a new system, which cost $325,000. It consisted of four and a half miles of pipes, numerous catch basins, manholes, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, and parking areas.

According to a story in the Cooperator, forerunner of the News Review, the project staff sympathized with the plight of local housewives "who lose their boots in the mire when they try to hang out a wash" and with husbands "who stand on the road each morning to hurl their muddy boots back on the porch for their wives to use later." Eventually sod was laid throughout the areas, and Mudbelt disappeared.

PETITION

Since the Greenbelt Road - Kenilworth Avenue Interchange has been made dangerous for traffic transferring onto Greenbelt Road from southbound Edmonston Road and Kenilworth Avenue, creating an unavoidable danger, and

Since the only improvement to traffic flow has been for Kenilworth Avenue traffic, and

Since the "Eternity Light" situation on Greenbelt Road has become worse at the cost of $13 million,

The following Maryland citizens demand that the State Highway Department vacate their premises on Kenilworth Avenue, and take offices on Greenbelt Road, where they can benefit from their designs as the rest of us have to. Their current facilities on Kenilworth Avenue can be used as an auto graveyard for the casualties of the "Kenilworth Motorcross."

DEDICATED TO SERVING YOU

DEAR FELLOW GREENBELTERS:

Thanks so much for your support these past two years. It has truly been a privilege to serve you. While I've been on Council, we've made significant progress in such areas as: parkland improvements and acquisition (over 50 acres at no expense to taxpayers); increased police manpower and targeted public safety programs (like our Selective Enforcement and Canine Units); recreational programming (including new revenue producing batting cages and special populations personnel), and our intracity transportation system (i.e. the "Greenbelt Connection").

However, I recognize that one's actions speak louder than his words, and I am proud to have personally led efforts or provided the impetus for:

- the creation of a $1 million pool of state funds for use of public facilities (like our abandoned North End School) for adult day care;
- city support of county legislation (CB-30) which, though ultimately not adopted because of pressures from the business community, would have placed tougher restrictions on new development during our area's Master Plan review process (and you can be sure I'll be pushing for such changes again);
- actively pursuing appraisals of undeveloped properties that are of interest to the city for acquisition;
- repair of the damaged sidewalks in the Roosevelt Center after nine years of no action and numerous complaints;
- early Council decision-making and citizen input on the $6 million bond issue priorities, though outvoted by a majority of Council;
- a city-wide campaign to address the multi-faceted problem of illegal drug use and trafficking;
- disseminating information to our senior citizens regarding their housing and long-term care options; and
- ensuring that our public outdoor swimming pool will receive desperately needed repairs and long-desired renovations in time for next summer's opening.

Clearly, there is much left to be done in these and other areas and there will be new challenges ahead. We must implement the bond issue projects in a more timely manner than it took to arrive at our spending priorities; and we must be creative in identifying resources to accomplish the many worthy projects for which sufficient bond funds or reserves are not now available. We must move ahead rapidly on development of the Greenbelt East Lake Park and actively pursue the purchase of undeveloped land parcels to preserve greenspace.

More immediate attention must be focused on the future of the Roosevelt Center and the North End School site. We must press for more rapid completion of promised highway improvements to relieve our ongoing traffic congestion problems. We must also begin to carefully evaluate and prepare for Greenbelt's future Metrorail Station and its impact on our entire city, and Springhill Lake particularly.

In this year of our city's golden anniversary, I believe the future holds much promise and look to your support on September 15 to carry on my efforts to preserve and enhance Greenbelt's distinct character and quality of life in a fiscally responsible manner for many years to come.

With Warmest Regards,

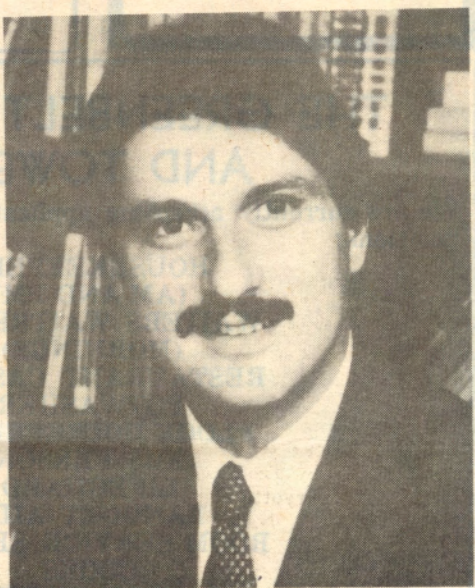

Joe

THE GRAYING OF GREENBELT

ED PUTENS

Greenbelt is great! So great that people who live here hate to leave. As we deepen our roots in Greenbelt, we are getting older together (and maybe a little wiser too). About 1350 households have at least one person over 60 years of age; many others among us are approaching that age group.

Our needs change as we get older. Our children go out on their own; we worry about our health; we look forward to retirement; perhaps we suffer a tragedy in our family. We need each other a little more.

Last September, I lost my father at age 75. While most of his senior years were spent enjoying and loving life, at 71 his health visibly declined. During the four-year period of physical and emotional strain caused by his illness, I came to appreciate the help that is needed, and often not available - both for the person who is failing and the family members looking for emotional support.

We have always been a city of proud people. Because we take care of ourselves pretty well we have not needed a strategy for helping senior citizens. Reflecting on recent trends, however, I believe we do have an emerging problem which deserves public attention. Some key points on which a policy toward senior citizens might be based.

1. Seniors should not be just an object of political rhetoric (as in, "We must do more for senior citizens.") There must be specific programs.
2. Our policy should be comprehensive; that is, it should a) reach all citizens over 60, and b) cover all areas of potential concern to older citizens. Those areas will include medical care; alternative housing; recreational needs, including exercise programs; social and cultural programs; transportation to all of the above; financial problems due to fixed income; information on available services; and mental health and well-being.
3. On the last point, particular attention should be focused on older seniors who live alone. A just-released consultant study shows that over half of all seniors live alone, and that some experience isolation from others; stress or depression; a fear of losing independence; or becoming unable to remain in their own homes.
4. Our policy should be based on sharing and self-help. Senior citizens should not be treated as a welfare class, and do not want handouts. They have distinctive problems which we as a community should address. They also have abilities and experience which are viable community resources. Therefore, part of our policy should be to encourage the many talented, vigorous seniors to provide volunteer service to their community. So many are doing so already, and we will continue to need their help and their wisdom.

I will propose that the Council appoint a Task Force on Senior Citizens to develop recommendations on a comprehensive senior-citizen policy. The Task Force should include members of all age groups; should have a time limit for completing its work; and should solicit citizens comments on all matters affecting senior citizens, perhaps including a City-wide questionnaire. Depending on the Council's eventual decisions, the Task Force might be converted into a permanent coordinating committee.

In the meantime, the City's consultant survey on the Status and Needs of Disabled and Elderly Residents has just been issued, and will provide us some guidance. The Council has authorized the Recreation Department to hire a Special Populations Coordinator to help both seniors and handicapped people. Ideally, this coordinator will be responsible for developing a City-wide "census" to provide a file of all people over 60 and any special requirements they may have; working with the Task Force; researching available State and Federal grants; establishing liaison with County, State and Federal programs; and developing relationships within the City, with the Golden Age Club, the Library, and the Cultural Arts Center, among others.

Here are some of the specific programs I would like to see.

- An outreach activity that will bring isolated seniors into contact with others
- A drop-in center for seniors at the new North End Center
- A telephone reassurance program for the isolated
- A regular schedule of exercise classes especially for seniors. (A few volunteers are doing great work in this area already.)
- A program of trips and other special events held once a month
- Effective use of the new indoor pool for recreational and fitness activities
- Periodic health screenings
- Assistance in finding part-time employment
- A column in the News Review, or a separate monthly newsletter to all seniors, containing information on events, meetings, community service opportunities, financial and tax information, and other matters of interest.

In addition we need more senior citizen housing, a problem which will become more serious as more people reach senior age. Green Ridge House has been a tremendous success story. We need a second such facility, but one which incorporates an intermediate medical care facility.

With our collective talent for solving problems and creating opportunities, we can establish a model program that will pass a message of reassurance to all the seniors (and almost seniors) in Greenbelt. We will be telling them that, as members of the Greenbelt family, they are important and we care. With even more to look forward to in Greenbelt, there will be even less reason for wanting to live anywhere else.
